1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 8 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vukelic et al in view of Caputo et al. Vukelic et al disclose the claimed subject matter including a wakeboard foot binding combination with a base plate 36, a foot binding 14 attached to the base plate, the base plate having slots. Vukelic et al also disclose an inner rear segment 44, an inner front segment 46, and an outer binding segment 48. Not disclosed by Vukelic et al are arcuate slots and a lacing ladder. Caputo et al teach arcuate slots in plate 206 (note Figure 11, for example). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the base plate of Vukelic et al with arcuate slots as taught by Caputo et al for improved swiveling movement leading to improved user control of the wakeboard. Additionally, it would have been an obvious choice of engineering design to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have been to form the outer segment with a lacing ladder for improved securement of the foot.
3. Claims 3, 7, 9-12, 14-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3617

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Neubauer shows a wakeboard binding. Bobrowicz et al show a lacing ladder.
